A FINE ROMANCE

Lyrics by Dorothy Field

*A fine romance, with no kisses,
A fine romance, my friend, this is.
I might as well play bridge with my old maid aunts.
I haven't got a chance.
This is a fine romance!*

From NJ Turnpike Exit 12: At the tollbooth, bear to the extreme right, and keep bearing to the EXTREME right at the ramp, following the signs to RAHWAY. The off ramp will put you on Roosevelt Ave. You will pass a Holiday Inn on your right. The third traffic light (about ¼ mile) is Blair Road (BP station on the SE corner). COOPERATIVE DEFENSE AT IMPS

by Brett Kunin

FOR THE ADVANCING PLAYER

Playing in a Swiss event at the last Tarrytown regional, and, with both sides non-vul, you open 1♦ in first chair, there is a 1NT overcall by your LHO, partner bids 3♦ (which, by agreement at imps, you play as constructive), and after some hesitation, your RHO bids 3♥, ending the auction.

West	North	East	South
1♦	1NT	3♦	3♥
All Pass

You are on lead, holding:

♠ A763
♥ A52
♦ KJ53
♣ Q7

None of your lead choices are particularly attractive (although, on the faint chance that partner actually holds Kxx of clubs, you might engineer a club ruff). If you decide to lead a Diamond, which one do you lead? My partner, Sam Borenstein, tabled the ♦J! He reasoned that I very well could hold ♦A10xxx for my constructive raise – I promised 5 by bidding to the 3-level – and even if the 1NT overcaller did have the most likely holding of ♦AQx, declarer would be presented with a losing option, based on the deceptive lead. Dummy actually tabled:

♠ 92
♥ QJ7
♦ AQ9
♣ AJ963

After some thought, declarer played the ♦A, and it was my turn to play, holding:

♠ KQ84
♥ 63
♦ 108762
♣ K4

It was not too difficult to realize what partner had done, and I therefore played the ♦10, promising Spade values.

Declarer played a Spade from the board, and I played the ♠Q, which held. It was apparent that declarer was trying to ruff a Spade in dummy, so at trick #3 I led the ♥6, which my partner ducked appropriately. A second Spade was played from the table, and I won the ♠K, and led my second trump. My partner won the ♥A, played his third trump, and our defense won 3 Spades, one Club, and the trump Ace to beat the contract by one trick. Although 2♠ may actually make (even with a Diamond ruff), it is a contract that is virtually impossible to get to with normal methods after a 1NT overcall. Interestingly enough, if partner is in 3♦, he may bring it home, holding losers to two Diamonds, one Club, and one Heart.

When we compared results with our teammates, we learned that our efforts were not in vain, as our N-S counterparts were in 3♣, which, with 2/2 clubs, is virtually cold on any defense for +110.

With 110+50=160, we won 4 imps. Note that if we had failed to beat 3♥, we would have been 110-140 = -30 for a 1-imp loss. Our cooperative defense meant a 5-imp swing. Although you will often hear that imps is played in game and slam, as opposed to matchpoints, which is played at the 2- or 3-level, at imps: (1) do not underestimate the importance of winning part-score battles; (2) bidding the limit of your hand immediately and giving the opponents the last guess is often a winning tactic; and, (3) thoughtful defense of a part-score contract is often the difference between winning and losing a match.

KOHN'S CORNER #5

by Arnold Kohn

HAND EVALUATION

You are dealt:

♠ A63
♥ A96
♦ 9432

and you are faced with the decision to open the hand or not. You do have 12 HCP, so according to modern methods you should open. You also have three quick tricks, and that in most methods is an automatic opening bid. The real criterion is that the hand may be worth, at most, four tricks. Ron Klinger has devised an evaluation called losing trick count, in which all Aces, protected Kings and Queens, and all cards after the third card of any suit are considered winners. Every other card in the hand is considered to be a loser. Klinger proposes that only seven-loser hands or better (i.e., ones with fewer losers) should be opened. The hand above is a nine-loser hand, and he recommends that you Pass with it.

Marty Bergen's Rule of 20 states that if the sum of your HCP plus the number of cards in your two longest suits equals 20 or more, you should open, so the hand above does not qualify as an opening bid.

The game of Bridge is based on getting to a contract, in which you collect the number of tricks you have contracted for. I think the best solution is to combine all of the hand evaluation methods and think in terms of trick-taking ability instead of just relying on point count before making a bid or passing.

NO MORE SIT-OUTS !!

Use of BBO robots and the Common Game

Clubs wishing to make their games more attractive to players may take advantage of a fairly new wrinkle in the world of duplicate bridge: the use of BBO robots to make up full tables. For players, this eliminates pre-game dread of an announcement of a sit-out round for N-S or else E-W pairs.

The setup can be for either direction; for now, we'll assume E-W. In a round in which E-W would otherwise have had a sit-out, they get to play the boards of that round against BBO (Bridge Base Online) robots. The East hand will be displayed on one of a pair of laptops (or tablets); the West hand, on the other. The bidding and play occur as you may already have experienced with BBO online play. The approach can be extended to accommodate three players who need a robot for the 4th, or a single player who needs one robot partner and two robot opponents.

The requirements, in addition to a table for the two laptops /tablets, include electronic scoring devices, a director's PC to serve as a host computer, and reliable wifi connectivity. Club directors may opt to use the Common Game, which means, as with STaC games, that results are compared not only within a club but to results of many other players participating at clubs all over the country at the same time. Alternatively, directors may generate and upload sets of boards for exclusive use at their own clubs and still take advantage of robot players to insure that all tables are "full."

BBO robots play a basic 2/1 bidding system. They are designated "ineligible" for masterpoint award purposes, so they will never cost you a place in the final standings. (In case you wouldn't play with robots if they were the last beings on earth, you can opt for "no-play" scoring on your sit-out round.)

The system has been tried in at least one Unit 140 club but was discontinued. On the other hand, the Bridge Club of Center City in Philadelphia reports great success with it. For further info, access

THE BRIDGE CONNECTION

by Rosalie Slutsky

There is so much we can learn to make our bridge game more enjoyable and fun. The following tidbits will add to your enjoyment of the “world’s most popular card game.”

Twisting the Knife Bid. Let us say you have just heard partner make a pre-emptive bid and you are looking at a ton of trumps in your own hand and typically some shortness in other suits. Provided you think you will not go down any more than two or three tricks, raise partner’s opening bid. The opponents want to bid and you are just twisting the knife, making it much more difficult for them to find their “makeable” contract. Partner must remember that you are twisting the knife – not inviting partner to make another bid.

Your partner opens the bidding with 1NT. What is your bid, holding:

♠ K104
♥ 3
♦ KQJ9653
♣ AQ

Answer: bid 4♣, Gerber, Ace-asking. You have a powerful hand and 12 tricks are very likely. You want to know how many Aces partner has. If partner answers 4♥ (showing one Ace), you can sign off in 5♦. If partner answers 4♠ (two Aces) or 4NT (three Aces), you can bid a small slam in Diamonds.

When partner opens 1NT, always transfer to your 5-card-or-longer major suit and – if you can use “especially” in the same sentence as “always” – especially when holding zero HCP. After all, your hand is useless to partner unless your 5-card suit is the trump suit.

The Reverse Bid. This is a non-jump bid by opener which will force responder to choose one of your suits. If responder must bid at the three-level to choose your first-bid suit, you have made a Reverse Bid. Hence, you must have the playing strength of at least 17 HCP. By “playing strength” I am suggesting that with highly distributional hands – 6/5, etc. – you can have fewer HCP if your honor cards are in your bid suits.

FYI: Reverse Bids are made with non-balanced hands and the first bid suit is always longer than the second bid suit. If you have two suits of the same length, bid the higher ranking one, then the lower ranking one, even with 17 HCP. You should jump-shift with 18 or more HCP.

Your partner opens the bidding with 2NT. What is your bid, holding:

♠ J4
♥ Q73
♦ K1074
♣ AQ84

Answer: bid 4NT. This is an invitation for partner to bid slam. You have 12 HCP and partner has either 20 or 21. Slam is extremely likely and partner will accept the invitation on almost any hand except one with 20 HCP and 4-3-3-3 distribution.

POD MISBEHAVES, A-GAIN!

by Peter Wright

Kay, see, I'm North and Pod opens with a Kringading One Hot, explodin the nostrum that he alluz bids my shorty and alluz com-Pounds his erruh by holdin a shorty in my longy. Whatever I bid, Pod ain't gottem. Cept this time he do, or rather, I do.

But while I'm doin some lippy-lickin, Righty muddies the wawas by bangin down a 1♠ cod. Barely suppressin a con-Temptious snort, I ponder a dubbl, but scrub that! Pod kin never stinguish tween my penalty dubbls and those of the negatory persuasion. See, he'll mis-co-Operate, like alluz, an bid one a them infernal minus-suits. Charming!

So, I put on my best Sunday smirk an raise Righty to 2♠. (If Pod forgits – a-Gain! – an leaves this call unmolested, I will opt to play 2♠ with Righty's hand as dummy. You may consult the Laws of Duplicate Bridge – Law #94 – to learn more about this seldom-exercised, rope-a-dope strategy.)

But Lefty, he save Pod barrassment by uppın the aunty to 3♠. Pod tanks, proolly wondrin if the Bridge Bulletin will write him up if he makes a 4th consecutive Spayd bid. Stead, he Pro-duces a 4♦ cod. 4♦??? Holy guacamoly! He muss think my Q-bid was Michaels for the minus, or mebbe he's showin keycods in case my 2♠ call was Premature Blackwood. With Pod, you kin never tell.

Righty saves me a ton of frettin with a rip-snortin 4♣ cod, spite the fact I'm famous for holdin five trumps even when they have ten trumps tweenem. Silently givin thanks for the sumptuous dinner prepared before me by mine enemies, I casually extract my most penalty-oriented dubbl cod from the biddin box and let it waft ever so coyly onto the table.

Lefty makes the first pass of the hand as I blissfully begin countin mental sugarplums: 200, 500, 800 . . . Great Thunderin Hoptoads! Pod's tankin – a-Gain!!!

I begin broadcastin tsunami-sized brainwaves at him: green cod! green cod! I even send him an option to put down the black cod, a redubbl of my dubbl; t'ain't legal, but t'won't won't ruin my digestion.

But whoa is me! Pod, he don't hold with no ESP transmissions. See, he lives down to my expectations, makin what might courteously be De-scribed as an advance sacrifice bid, if one were Dis-posed to be courteous, which I categorically ain't. He Con-tracts for a Hot slam, while my eyeballs con-Tract like they aim to relocate to the back of my head.

Pod's e-Gregious an ob-Noxious slam call gets the dubbl it so eminently De-serves from Lefty. I give serious consideration to sacrificin in 6♠ myself, but scrub that too! Let Pod go down in flames, not me. I pull out a dubbl cod to show my dis-Dain, but mine enemies disallow it. So here's the latest episode in the series of transgressions I call Bidding Bad:

South	West	North	East
1♥	1♠	2♠	3♠
4♦	4♠	Dbl	Pass
6♥	Pass	Pass	Dbl
All Pass

All nonchalant-like, Pod ruffs the openin lead of the ♠A and draws two rounds of Hots. Then he starts on Dymans, cashin the Ace, and then crossruffin a pair of Spayds and a pair of Dymans. Then he claims, generously conseedin a Club, an I'm like fallin off my chair. He's makin six for a perfectly de-Lectable score of 1660! (You could add it up.)

Recoverin my poise with alacrity, I quickly denounce Pod for playin sloppy . . . a-Gain!!! He shoulda pitched 3 Clubs from dummy on his long Dymans, ruffed his Club, an made 7 for 1880. Tsk! Fie! Tut!

MASTERPOINT RACES

Top Three Leaders as of April 1, 2017

Mini-McKenney medallions are awarded to the players in each Unit, one per ranking level, who earn the most total master points during the previous year. All points of any color and source are counted. Ace of Clubs certificates are awarded to the players in each Unit, one per ranking level, who earn the most master points in club games during the calendar year. Only black points are counted; points earned in STaCs and other special games paying "pigmented" points don't count. The awards are not mutually exclusive; it's possible to win either or both in the same year. The level you compete in is the one within which you started the year.

YOUTH BRIDGE

by BARBARA CLARK

During the current school year the Oakwood Avenue School and Park Avenue School Bridge Clubs have conducted fundraising activities such as candy and pizza sales, dress down days and collaborating with parents and members of the community. We have identified ten students from Oakwood Avenue and ten from Park to journey to Toronto for the Youth North American Bridge Championships.

Trustee Terry Zuckerman of the Ralph W. Errington Charitable Foundation made a generous donation of $10,000 to the Orange Education Foundation for the bridge program for the express purpose of deferring some of the costs of transportation and room and board for these kids. There are no words to express the gratitude of our bridge coordinators, kids, parents and the Orange School District for the funding which will help us to reach our fundraising goals for this worthwhile opportunity for the kids. It provides relief from the tremendous burden and hard work needed to raise the amount of money required to participate in the youth tournament and other cultural activities associated with travel to Toronto

Mr. Zuckerman wished us much success, not necessarily in winning trophies but in having this extraordinary, incredible experience that will be beneficial for a lifetime. Our trip will include a visit to Niagara Falls, the Science Museum, Thousand Island National Park and sightseeing. Many thanks to Mr. Zuckerman and the Ralph W. Errington Charitable Foundation for the continued support and commitment to the bridge program in Orange. This magnanimous donation is greatly appreciated.
